ER 62-1328/a 1329/a

Colonel Matthew C. Stewart Acting Assistant Commandant U.S. Army Intelligence School Fort Holabird Baltimore 19, Maryland

Dear Colonel Stevart:

STAT	Mr. McCone has asked me to acknowledge and thank you very much for your letters of 28 February concerning the talks made by at the U.S. Army Intelligence School.	STA
STAT	We are always glad to learn of the performance of our people and appreciate your courtesy in writing to us about this. For the information of I am bringing your respective letters to their attention.	STAT
	Sincerely,
STAT	O/DCI/::rap(7 Mar 62) Distribution: Orig. & 1 - Addr	STAT
STAT	1 - AAB 1 - via DD/S w/basic (ER 62-1329) 1 - via DD/I w/basic (ER 62-1328) - ER w/cpv basic

Approved For Release 2003/05/05 : CIA-RDP80B01676R003000130018-8

300-16

STAT

STAT

28 February 1962

Mr. John A. McCone Director Central Intelligence Agency Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

courtesy in making possible the effective period of instruction presented at Fort Holabird by on 15 February 1962, to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Courses.
discussion of the origin and mechanics of the production of national intelligence estimates, as well as of problems expersenced in the production and utilization of these estimates by the U. S. Government, was a most useful complement to the training of our students and the Staff and Faculty, please accept my thanks for your assistance in our training endeavors and please convey to my sincere appreciation.

The U. S. Army Intelligence School is most appreciative of your

Sincerely,

MATTHEW C. STEWART Colonel, Infantry Acting Asst Commandant

STAT

62-1329

28 Pebruary 1962

Mr. John A. McCone Director Central Intelligence Agency Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

STAT	It is a pleasure to express the appreciation of the U. S. Army Intelligence School for an extremely interesting presentation by on 13 February 1962 to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Course at Fort Holabird.
STAT	Strategic Intelligence and afforded them a lucid understanding of the manner in which this intelligence is used at the national level. His interesting illustrations, based on actual operations, effectively highlighted and considerably enhanced the presentation. These senior intelligence officers will go to their future assignments with a much better appreciation of how they might contribute to the overall requirements of the U. S. intelligence community.
STAT	Thank you for makingavailable to give this presentation and please convey to him my sincere appreciation. Sincerely,

MATTHEW C. STEWART Colonel, Infantry Acting Asst Commandant

62-1326

28 Pebruary 1962

Mr. John A. McCone Director Central Intelligence Agency Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

School.

It is a nies	sure to express the appreciation of	of the U.S. Army
Intelligence Scho	ol for the informative and interest on 14 February 1962 by ng the Intelligence Collection Sta	to STAT
Intelligence Off	cer Career Courses.
markanire of eur	detailed discussion of the or lligence Survey Program, together yey preparation and participation provided extremely valuable inst	in the program by other

STAT

Thank you for making _____available to give this lecture and please extend to him my sincere appreciation. It is hoped we shall be privileged to have him address future classes here at the Intelligence intelligence officers. These classes, who have been and will continue to be constant users of the NIS product, were appreciative and enlightened

STAT

Sincerely yours,

MATTHEW C. STEWART Colonel, Infantry Acting Asst Commandant

62-1327

28 February 1962

Mr. John A. McCone Director Central Intelligence Agency Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

\sim	_ ^	_
 		- 1
	_
$\mathbf{-}$	•	١.

The favorable comments I have received concerning the presentation by on 14 Pebruary 1962, to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Courses, indicate that it was one of the highlights of the academic training programmed for these students here at Port Holabird.

STAT

standing of CIA field organization, war planning, and services of the Agency which are available to military agencies, and the material presented should be of high value to the military intelligence staff officer. The intellectual homesty of the speaker in discussing problem areas in clandestine intelligence and in CIA-U.S.Army relationships was particularly appreciated.

Thank you for your courtesy in making available to give this presentation and please convey to him my sincere appreciation. It is hoped that we shall be privileged to have him address future classes at the Intelligence School.

STAT

Sincerely,

MATTHEW C. STEWART Colonel, Infantry Acting Asst Commandant